TRANSCONTINENTAL WAYS.

Placed as our continent is, like a strip of land of varying width be-tween two great oceans, it furnishes not only local business to the railways crossing it, but becomes as well a highway between the eastern and western portions of the Old World. Enthusiasts, speculators, capitalists, long talked of a Pacific Railway to extend from ocean to ocean, but not till 1869 did a Pacific Pailway on United States Territory become an accomplished fact, though at the narrowest point of our continent the Panama Railroad had long been in operation. Another was completed last year, a foorth is now prestigably complete. fourth is now practically complete, while six more are either nearly finished or far advanced—ten transcontinental railroads in all.

Far to the north, in the Dominien of Canada, is the Canadian Pacific Railway, in active construction and

British Columbia. Within the United States are four great routes, all subsidized by the Second, the Union Central, from Council Bluffs, by the basin of the Great Salt Lake, to San Francisco, Third, the Atlantic and Pacific, or thirty-fifth parallel route, from St. Louis through the Indian Territory, New Mexico, Arizona, and California, to the Pacific Coast, no specific terminous being there designated Fourth, and furtherest to the south, on the very borders of Mexico, is the Southern Pacific, or thirty-second parallel route (which we may consider as commencing at New Orleans), through Texas to El Paso, thence westward through Southern New Mexico and Arizona to Fort Yuma, on the Colorado, and on through California to San Francisco, It must be remembered that though our Pacific seaboard extends from north to south for twelve hundred miles, it has but four harbors of any consequence-Paget Sound, the Co lumbia River, San Francisco, and

San Diego; hence any transconti-nental railway naturally seeks one of these, and the trade of San Diego being as yet undeveloped, the southern routes have simed at San Francisco, though the more southern port would seem to be their natural terminous.

In addition to these four routes, the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad, whose eastern terminus is at Atchinson, on the southwest, and has acquired by purchase the Ponora Railway, recently built northeast-ward from Gaaymas, on the Gulf of California, towards the Santa Fe lines in Arizona or New Mexico The connection thus made will form another route, whose western ter-minus lies within Mexican Territory. In Mexico itself charters and subsi-In Mexico itself charters and subsi-dies for three transcontinental, or "interoceanic" lines, as they call them there, have been obtained by American capitalists, and considera-ble pregress has been made toward their construction. Of these the more northerly crosses i rom Tampico to San Blus, the second from Vera Cruz, by the City of Mexico, to Man-zanillo. The third is the Teh Mantepec Railroad, across the isthmus of that name, toward whose construction much progress had been made by American capitalists; but the term of their charter having lapsed, the Mexican Government declared it would configured the work already to the Mexican Covernment declared it would configured the work already to the Mexican Covernment declared it would configure the work already to the Mexican Covernment declared it would configure the work already to the Mexican Covernment declared it would configure the work already to the mexican covernment declared it would configure the mexican covernment declared it would be a supplied to the mexican covernment declared it would configure the mexican covernment declared it would be a supplied to the mexican covernment declared it would be a supplied to the mexican covernment declared it would be a supplied to the mexican covernment declared it would be a supplied to the mexican covernment declared it would be a supplied to the mexican covernment declared it would be a supplied to the mexican covernment declared it would be a supplied to the mexican covernment declared it would be a supplied to the mexican covernment declared it would be a supplied to the mexican covernment declared it would be a supplied to the mexican covernment declared it would be a supplied to the mexican covernment declared it would be a supplied to the mexican covernment and the mexican covernment and the mexican covernment are supplied to the mexican covernment and the mexican covernment are supplied to the mexican covernment and the mexican covernment are supplied to the mexican covernment and the mexican covernment are supplied to the mexican covernment and the mexican covernment are supplied to the mexican covernment are supplied to the mexican covernment and the mexican covernment are supplied to th void, confiscated the work slresdy done, and is now constructing the road as a national enterprise. At the narrowest part of our continent the Panama Railroad has long been in operation. Here are ten transcontinental railroads, three of which are completed, and in the construction of the remaining seven such progress has been made as assures their early completion. But it is with those within the United States that we are more chiefly concerned, and it is of them mainly that we now propose to treat. Comparisons as to distances are of little value so many other cousiderations, as to grades, fuel, etc., affecting the cost of transportation, and also because no one corporation yet owns a continuous road from the Pacific Coast to a Northern sea port, and the connections wast of the Missouri and Mississippi Rivers are made of so many different routes that lines south of the Northern Paoific may be considered as terminat ing at the Missouri River, or at the Mississippi below their junction.— F. POSTOFFICE SAVINGS BANKS The fact that our Government has recently requested information of the Canadian authorities with reference to the workings of the postoffice savings banks in that country seems to imply that the former is considering seriously the question of establishing similar institutions here. Frank Leslie's says: "The wonder is that this has not been done long ago. The many failures of savings banks all over the country, by which millions of the hard earnings of the poor have been awallowed up, should have furnished the Government a sufficient motive for the adoption of measures for the protection of this class against the rapacity of official the proprietor of a place of that kind thieves. A recent failure, in which men and women, old and almost helpless, lost the earnings of a lifetime, is one of the saddest illustrations of the sage of such a law as we have sag operation of a system which the public has had only too much reason to regard as a legalized robbery. The legal precautions against the perpetration of such wrongs upon depositors in savings banks are not of a character to give people any degree of security for their money; on the contrary, the laws are so full of loopholes for the escape of the offenders, that it is but seldom they can be punished.

That the establishment of postoffice savings banks would increase the labor and cost of the Postoffice Department is no argument against the adoption of such a system. The postoffice service exists for the good of the public, and the incalculable benefits which would accrue from the absolute security guaranteed by Government savings banks would compensate a hundred-fold for any accidental loss that might at first result from this widening of the service.

But it is by no means certain that the system, if adopted, would in the long run result in loss to the service. The experience of the Canadian Government has been that the use of the funds placed in its hands for safe keeping has more than compensated it for the labor involved, and this while allowing four per cent. interest upon all deposits. Deposits in Canadian postoffice savings banks may be made in sums as small as ten cents and as high as $200; the latter amount being the maximum allowed to be attained by ordinary deposits. If, however, depositors desire to become Government cueditors in a large sum, they are allowed to become so. Deposits in these banks cannot be withdrawn until one month after the date of deposit, interest being allowed for the time the money has been held by the Post Office Department.

The popularity of these institutions in the Dominion may be seen from the Government statement. In the year 1879 there was an increase in the deposits over the year preceding amounting to $710,670; in 1880 an increase of $1,845,273; in 1881 any increase of $4,-783,716; in 1882 an increase of $5.931,-988, and last year the increase in the amount of deposits over that of 1878 amounted to about $8,000,000, making an increase of over $20,000,000 in such deposits in five years.

The security with which clerks, artisans and others in Canada can add to their savings, and the knowledge that there is no probability of loss, has a wonderful effect in developing habits of industry, and in cultivating the idea of possession, which, Herbert Spencer ctates, is one of the distinctive characteristics of the civilized man, in contradistinction to the barbarian.

That such a system introduced into the Unitee States would be a great publie benefit. there is no reason to doubt. and the present Administration would not decrease its chances of a continuance in power should it inaugurate a scheme that would deserve the grateful recognition of the people."

SALOON FREQUENTING YOUTHS

The Journal corductly endorses Some Interesting Information from the subjoined article which appears in the Tuscarora Times-Review:

There is a law upon our statutes forbidding the presence of minors in any licensed public place where gambling is going on, either as participators in the game or as specta-The keeper of the house is liable to heavy fine or imprisonment, or both, for permitting any person under twenty one years of age to be present in a room where any kind of gambling is being conducted. There s also a law, with similar penalties, forbidding the sale of any kind of intoxicating drink to minors. These are all right so far as they go, but they don't go far enough. The first law should be amended or another enacted, applying the prohibition and penalty to public drinking saloons whether licensed gambling is connected there or not. A drinking saloon, no matter how respectable its class, is no place for boys, and striugent legal means should be adopted to keep them away. It is seldom that encourages or desires the custom or presence of minors, and we are confident that nine-tenths of them in this State would advocate the pas gested. In the absence of any statnte upon the subject, however, many of them dislike to order a young twenty eighteen or years of age to leave their premises, although at the same time they would rather he would not come there. A prohibitory law would furnish a valid reason for enforcing their absence and relieve the proprietors of any scruples of delicacy which at present might prevent them from doing what they feel to be their duty. So far as the bad moral effect of saloon associations upon the youthful mind is concerned there can be no question, and none realize its baneful influence more fully than the old habitues, the better class of whom swould be glad to see the law enacted and en-We hope the next Legislature will take the matter in hand by the adoption of such measures as

The Speakership.

The contest in Washington for the Speakership grows warm. Randall was yesterday closited for an hour with John Roach, the ship builder. W. W. Eaton, of Connecticut, declared himself strongly against tariff agitation, as the forerunner of Democratic defeat. General McClellan has written to W. M. Springer expressing his surprise that any Illinois Domocratic members should besitate to support him. There is considerable talk of Mr. Morrison as a compromise candidate. Mr. Carlisle expects to receive the votes of all the Illinois Democratic members except Riggs and Neece.

The Message.

It has not yet been decided whether the President's third annual message to Congress will be read from the manuscript or printed. Of President Arthur' first message there were but four copies, and these in manuscript. Two were read to the House and the Senate, and the other two given to the Associated Press. Should the message be printed this year, the work of setting up the copy and correcting the proof will be performed only by a few of the head men of the printing bureau. This will be done to prevent the leakage which usually occurs where it takes its course through the regular channel.

Unlimited Coinage

Congressman Cassidy is correct in saying, in reference to the New York movement favoring the discontinuance of standard dollars, that the Pacific coast members would insist that if any change were made in the coinage act that unlimited coinage should be adopted, giving a right to all to send their silver to the mints, and have it coined the same as was done before the present act was adopted.

POSTAL NEWS. This Year's Report.

The Sacramento Record-Union says the report of First Assistant Postmaster General Hatton shows a material advance in the postal system of the country. It has greatly extended its service: a better class of officials have been put mine. into service in many States; the efficiency of the Department has been augmented, and the revenues have largely increased. The Presidential appointments were 192 nied. more than in the preceding year, and the appointments of the Postmaster General 1,440 in excess. The Postoffices of the country increased 1.632 during the year. The increase on the Pacific Coast was 68. Pennsylvania has the largest number of Postoffices, and one of her counties-Lancasterhas the largest number of offices of any county in the Union. The second State as to number is New York, and the third Ohio. Very likely the popular idea has been that New York was first in the rank. Dakota has the largest increase in offices, and Pennsylvania comes next. In Rhode Island the increase was but one in offices, while in Connecticut there was a decrease of

The money order offices in the whole system increased in the year 421, and their total number is 5.857. In 1882 there were 46,231 postoffices; in 1883 there are 47,863. It is a small item, it per cent, more of wrapping twine in the last than in the preceding year; but, with commendable economy in small saving of money with the merease of the the past than in the former year. The report shows that the Postmasters of will effectually suppress the growing the country hold in trust no less than $300,000 as security for the return of the keys of lock boxes.

> The adjustment of Postmasters' sale aries under the law reducing letter postage resulted satisfactorily, and for the first time in the history of the country the salaries of Presidential offices have aggregate allowance for clerks in postoffices in the year amounted to $4,385,-000: rent and fuel and lights, $435,-431 36; for miscellaneous items, $71,-$7,292 73; salaries for fourth-class Presidential offices assigned to the class, for one year, $218,000; total amount for salaries of Presidential Postmasters. $3,852,700; rents for postoffice rooms, $254,181; amount saved by clerk hire reduced and discontinued. $46,505; there was also saved by discontinued postoffices and reduced salaries of Postmasters, $8,000.

The free delivery system cost $3,-173,336, and was extended to 42 additional cities. The postage on local matter at free delivery offices increased $378,654.

The postage on local matter exceeds the cost of the carrier service by $1.-021,894, and hence, the report holds, the time has arrived when local postage may be safely reduced to one cent herever the carrier system prevails It is also suggested that the carrier system be extended to towns lying closely together whose aggregate population is 20,000.

Mr. Hatton strongly opposes the private dispatch companies, and avers that the Government loses thousands of dollars unnually by their operations. He denies emphatically that their service is better than that of the United States. The reduction of local postage to one cent, he thinks, will strangle them. Mr. Hatton's estimates for the expenses of the year ending June 30, 1885, is $22,015,000, or 20.56 per cent. in excess of the appropriation for the the current year's expenses is $19,369,-091, or 15.45 per cent. increase. There are a number of very interesting tables of exhibits attached to the report, but which cannot now be noticed. The document certainly shows that in the Postal Department we are making best models.

Since the decline of the principal industry in the camp a number of small mine own ers have abandoned their claims. These were promptly jumped by emmissaries of the Como-Eureka and the various mines consolidated under the title of the Nevada Con., which embraces 22 mines inclusive of the Como-Eureka, Pride of Como, Maybee, Valencia and many others, and embracing nearly all the valuable named mine has a shaft 199 feet in depth and $20,000 have been subof 500 feet or deeper. The Pride of Como also has a shaft and one will presently be sunk on the Maybee. stronger of the two, struck out through Mr. Conduit will come up from the then be decided when active work will be commenced. Owing to the heavy snow fall in the mountains in the Winter it is probable that work will be somewhat retarded until Spring. The starting up of the work will probably give employment

A Charming Sunset.

One of the most supremely grand and awe-inspiring sunsets the eye of man ever beheld occurred last evening. When the sun dropped behind the mountains a dense black cloud overcast the whole beavens. was raining briskly. As if the God relate in these latter days; in fact, no of nature had arranged behind the one can fully appreciate them except scenes a surprise for mortal man, those who have been through the mill. soon after dark the clouds suddenly passed off to the eastward, leaving a hage black pillow hovering over the summit of the Sierras. From behind this and extending the outire length of the western horizon, arose an immense fan-shaped flame as from a burning ocean. Commencing at the base a brilliant red the color gradually faded to a beautiful silver white at the zenith. No brush can imitate nor pen describe the beauty and grandure of a scene like that, The beholder could well imagine that the ghost of Gregory Summerfield had returned to earth and in his madness set fire to the Pacific

Union Thust Company, or New York, A Corporation, Complainant, MRVADA AND OREGON RAHROAD COMPANY, a Corporation, Defendant, MEVADA AND OREGON RAILROAD COMPANY, a Corporation, Defendant.

By virtue of an interlocutory decree and order of sale issued out of the Circuit Court of the United States, Ninth Circuit and District of Newada, and to me directed and delivered, rendered in said Court on the 7th day of August, A. D. 1883, wherein the Union Trust Company, of New York, a corporation, is complainant, and Newada and Oregon Railroad Company, a corporation, is defendant.

And wherein it appears that on the 25th day of April, A. D. 1881, the said defendant executed its certain series of 3,000 bonds of the denomination of $1,000 each and then and thereby, and in each of said bonds, acknowledged itself indebted, and promised to pay to the holder thereof, at the City of New York, the sum of $1,000 on the first day of June, in the year 1990, said also therein and thereby promised to pay interest thereon at the rate of eight (3) per cent. per annum, interest payable semi-ber of each year. That each of said bonds was one of a series of 3,000 of like amount, date, tenor and effect, amounting in the aggregate to three million dollars, and each of said bonds and all of them were secured by a mortgage or Deed of Trust duly oxecuted and made to the complainant, Union Trust Company, of New York, which said mortgage or Deed of Trust was dated April 25th, A. D. 1881, and was upon all the estate, real and personal, and franchises then owned or thereafter to be acquired by the said defendant, Nevada and Oregon Railroad Company, in the States of Nevada and California.

That of said 3,000 bonds complainant, Union Trust Company of New York sertified 800 and
